While the Paint Bucket is powerful, it is often abused. To avoid creating artifacts, it is important to be aware of the areas where it will not work as intended. The Magic Wand allows you to quickly select a region by moving the mouse over the color you want to select and clicking in the color you want. You can then use the Select or Click to Chain options to select a larger region. The Polygonal Lasso allows you to mark an area with a series of connected dots by holding the L key. This allows you to remove or mask out unwanted areas. The selection tools allow you to easily select areas based on color, line, or shape. The Lasso tool lets you draw a line around an area. You can then press Shift to constrain the selection to only that line. To convert an area into one color, use the magic wand, click on that area, and select Convert to from the selection menu. You can then fill in that selection with the desired color. This method can also be used to fill an area with a texture or pattern. The heal tool can be used to fix small scratches in an image. The Bracketing tool lets you take a sequence of close-up shots and stitch them together to create a composite image, or allow you to take a series of pictures at different distances from the subject. The Eraser tool lets you erase sections of an image by selecting the area to be erased and then erasing it. The healing tool allows you to fix small scratches and other damage in an image. The Live Selection tool lets you select parts of an image as it's being dragged around. This tool is often used to select the parts of an image you want to apply a texture or gradient to. The Warp tool allows you to stretch the borders of an image to make it fit more precisely within the canvas. The Content Aware Fill lets you fill an area with the color of the surrounding areas. It can be used to recreate damaged areas of an image or to apply a texture. You can also use the Color Replacement tool to make one color change to another.
