However, I want to call a function called addToSpinner. From what I can tell I have to use ng-init to call the function. The problem is, I want to use an ng-repeat to call a specific function in the addToSpinner function from the ng-repeat. For example: { { filter.title } }

What that means is that they can go from being “No Fun” or “Be Careful” to “Doesn’t Matter” in less than a second.The fact that those surveys on behalf of the state are being gathered without any voter ID or voter photo ID shows just how disgraceful the entire process is.Then again, the personal threats and harassment used by the True the Vote, as well as other voter integrity groups, seem to know exactly what they are doing.So, who is going to stop them? Honestly, there is nothing that I can think of that has the support of the president, but as president he has the power to stop this nonsense.

So, even if he doesn’t support these grassroots movements or their protest signs and stickers, he could do something about it. Trump’s appointment of the new head of the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) will make the agency more efficient, more proactive, and more in tune with environmental science. James “Babe” McCarthy, the first EPA Acting Administrator, was recently removed after repeated violations of EPA policy and procedure.

If McCarthy, or any EPA administrator in the Trump era, find that EPA regulations are interfering with the interstate flow of oil, hazardous materials, and other harmful or unwanted products, they have the authority to stop it.
