Today, Gov. Phil Murphy directed New Jersey's National Guard to immediately cease their strike activity in Philadelphia and New Jersey. "Today, the Governor and I have agreed to immediately cease the strike action announced on Sunday, and in the interests of public safety, I have directed the National Guard to immediately cease their strike activity," said Executive Order 2 of this afternoon, signed by the Governor. In addition to calling on our National Guard members to return to duty, the Governor has directed the Board of Public Safety to review their missions and their wages, benefits, and working conditions immediately. The Governor signed Executive Order 2, with the Mayor signing it in the
